FROM THE PRESIDENTS

Dear Friends,

March is here, and as Chennai turns up the heat, so does IWA. The calendar is full, the energy is high, and this month promises laughter, connection, and that unmistakable IWA sparkle.

We are delighted to welcome award-winning stand-up comedian Radhika Vaz for what promises to be a brilliantly entertaining morning. Our special thanks to Shefalii Dadabhoy for facilitating this special comedy show.

We also look forward to an engaging fireside chat with Suneeta Reddy, MD of Apollo Hospitals, in conversation with our member Hemu Ramaiah. Our heartfelt thanks to Alagu Muthu for inviting Dr. Reddy and to Lily Malhan for graciously sponsoring the meeting.

Another highlight of the month is our IWA Debate, a lively exchange of ideas featuring sharp arguments, spirited perspectives, and good-humoured sparring. It's an opportunity to think aloud together, disagree gracefully, and celebrate the art of conversation, something IWA does best.

Our year-end party promises an evening of music that keeps you on your feet, food worth lingering over, and conversations that stretch long into the night. Dress up, let your hair down, and embrace the joy of being together.

The Grand Finale brings theatre to the stage with La Vérité (The Truth) by Florian Zeller. This sparkling French comedy explores honesty and deception in modern relationships. Sharp, witty, and thought-provoking, it reminds us how fragile love and trust can be. We are especially proud that our member Roshan Poncha will be performing.

March also brings an important responsibility, our elections. Please remember to submit your Nomination Form to Usha Jawahar, Chairperson of the Election Committee. Your participation ensures that IWA continues to move forward with strength and heart.

And do mark your calendar, our AGM will be held on Monday, 27th April.

Thank you for being the energy, elegance, and enthusiasm that define IWA. You are what transforms it from an association into a true community.

In friendship,

Your Presidents,

Somna Sachdev & Jina Park

FROM HERITAGE TO MODERNITY: An evening with Jaiveer Johal

Join us for an intimate conversation with Jaiveer Johal, a visionary patron dedicated to bridging India's storied past with its artistic future. As the founder of the Avtar Foundation for the Arts, Jaiveer has spent the last decade curating a narrative of South Asian history—ranging from the serene sculptures of Gandhara to the opulent decorative arts of the Deccan.

In this session, Jaiveer will share his journey as one of South India's most passionate collectors and his pivotal role in establishing Chennai as a global hub for Contemporary Indian Art.

Beyond the history, he will offer personal insights on the art of collecting: how to build a meaningful ensemble that serves as a lasting legacy for generations to come.

From market trends to preservation, no topic is off-limits in this candid "heart-to-heart" on the evolution of Indian aesthetics.

“WITH AGE, WOMEN DON’T BECOME DIFFICULT — THEY BECOME HONEST.”

For the first time, IWA presents a curated debate, an exploration of a statement that is at once provocative and deeply familiar.

Is it a reclaiming of voice? A shedding of filters? Or simply the world adjusting to women who no longer apologise for clarity?

We are pleased to have Gita Chandrasekaran, Javanthi Singaram, Jaya Mahbubani, and Rekha Rangaraj taking the floor- two speaking for the motion and two against. Each will bring her own lived experience, perspective, and wit to what promises to be a nuanced exchange.

The format is concise and conversational- thoughtful rather than combative, spirited yet respectful. And this will not be a closed conversation. There will be time for audience rebuttals, so we encourage you to come prepared with your own reflections and points to share.

Our sincere thanks to Deepali Goyal for moderating what we hope will be an engaging, reflective, and thoroughly IWA-style discussion.

Join us for a morning of sharp insights, shared laughter, and meaningful dialogue - the kind that lingers long after the last word is spoken.

BETWEEN COVERS & CONVERSATIONS IWA Member Speak Series

Stories have the power to transport us—across cities, cultures, and time. This Member-Speak BD session celebrates voices from within IWA who write with warmth, wit, and wisdom. Through memory, humour, food, and everyday moments, our speakers invite us to rediscover the joy of stories that feel personal, familiar, and delightfully alive.

Anuradha Uberoi

When Anuradha Uberoi moved from Chandigarh to Chennai, she stepped into a city of filter-coffee mornings, curious neighbours, and surprising cultural contrasts. What began as culture shock soon became fascination—of food, festivals, families, and communities that were vibrant, warm, and sometimes delightfully quirky.

Her experiences inspired “Chennai Brew”, a witty, insightful, and photo-rich portrait of the Punjabi, Sindhi, and Parsi communities of Chennai. As Anuradha herself says, her presentation will be “as delectable as lassi, as lively as bhangra”. A learning and development consultant with advanced training in psychology, she has led workshops on leadership, emotional intelligence, team-building, and assertiveness, and wrote the syndicated column HR Matters for The Telegraph for seven years. With humour, warmth, and sharp insight, Anuradha shows how the quirks of everyday life can make a city truly feel like home.

Meera N Raghavendra Rao

Meera’s five-and-a-half-decade writing journey has grown from a quiet brainchild into twelve books across fiction and non-fiction, including “Chennai Collage”, “Slice of Life”, and “Journalism – Think Out of the Box”. She writes about friendships, everyday quirks, and the small dramas of life—with subtle humour and a twist at the end that keeps you smiling. A keen traveller and lover of party games, she avoids elevators whenever she can, preferring the charm (and occasional bumpiness) of an auto-rickshaw. Her husband, Dr. Rao, is her greatest supporter, sharpest critic, and occasional co-conspirator in life’s adventures. Warm, witty, and wonderfully observant, Meera reminds us that ordinary moments often hold the most extraordinary stories.

Come for the stories... stay for the gossip, laughter, and irresistible snacks!

WHERE HONESTY MEETS HUMOUR

Award-winning stand-up comedian, writer, and author Radhika Vaz will be performing exclusively for IWA and it promises to be a morning of rare intelligence and wit.

A recipient of the prestigious Gotham Award in New York and the author of Unladylike: A Memoir, Radhika is celebrated for her incisive humour, fearless candour, and her remarkable ability to articulate the thoughts many of us have quietly harboured but seldom voiced.

In this special performance, she reflects on middle-class beginnings, 1990s courtship, the subtleties of patriarchal expectations, and the layered realities of marriage, transforming familiar experiences into sharp, elegant comedy. Her humour is at once irreverent and perceptive, inviting us to laugh while recognising ourselves in the stories she tells.

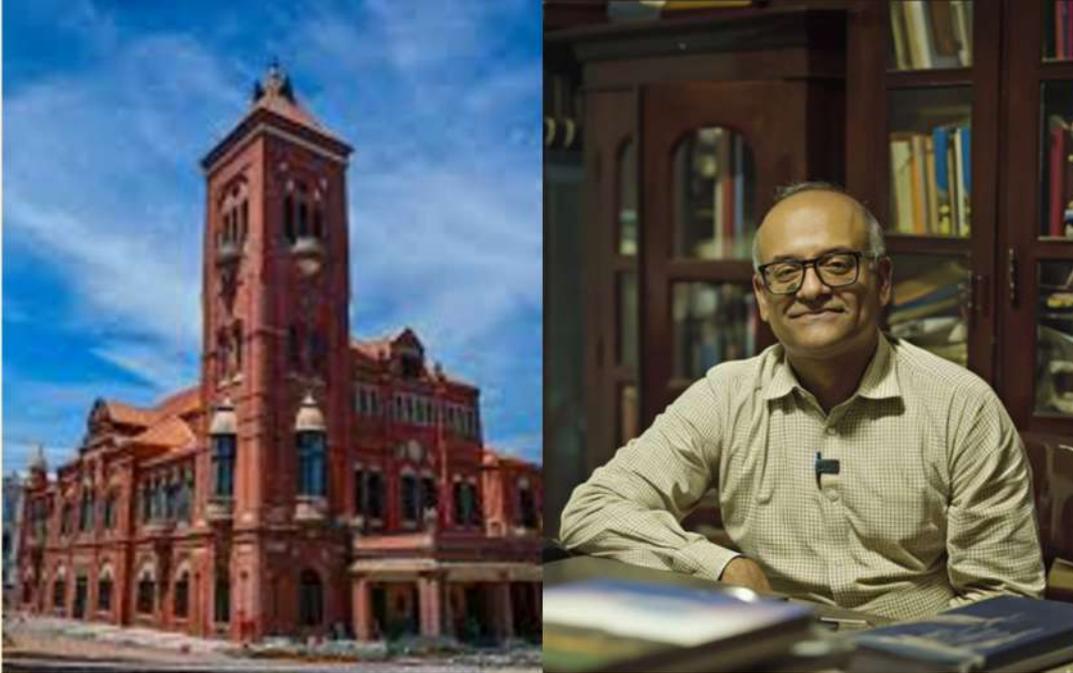

Expect a morning that is intelligent, finely observed, and deeply relatable, the kind that lingers long after the laughter fades.

We warmly thank Shefalii Dadabhoy for connecting us with Radhika and for hosting her at her home.

A LANDMARK REVISITED Victoria Public Hall with V. Sriram

Some buildings stand as reminders.

Others return — renewed, restored, and ready to speak again.

The Victoria Public Hall, one of Chennai's most iconic landmarks, now stands fully restored and reimagined as an immersive museum — a space that brings together the city's civic, cultural, and architectural journey under one magnificent roof.

This is our opportunity to experience it through the eyes of Sriram Venkatakrishnan — historian, heritage champion, and one of the most engaging chroniclers of Madras–Chennai. Since 1999, Sriram has pioneered heritage walks that make the city's past feel immediate and alive. As a columnist in The Hindu, Editor of Madras Musings, Secretary of the Music Academy, and convenor of its annual conference, he remains deeply woven into Chennai's cultural fabric.

What awaits us is the Victoria Public Hall through Sriram's perspective — an insider's view shaped by decades of studying, documenting, and walking this city. To explore the Hall now, in its restored grandeur, is to see Chennai's story gathered, curated, and given renewed voice!

We thank Vidya Singh for facilitating this special experience and bringing this opportunity to our members. Please wear comfortable clothing and footwear as we explore the space together.

We look forward to discovering — perhaps rediscovering — this landmark in its new chapter!

With wit and emotional depth, Zeller keeps the audience guessing who is truthful. Fast-paced and thought-provoking, the play blends laughter with insight, revealing how fragile love and trust can be.

The English version is being performed and will run for approximately 90 minutes.
